

Weekend overview Women's miniweek 2021

 Waterfront time – This will be weather dependent. Assuming we have a warm sunny spring weekend Camp will do what they can to have canoes and kayaks available for us.

 Book Discussion- Educated, a memoir, by Tara Westover. Mindy Holt will again be facilitating this year's book discussion on Saturday morning.

 Campfire sing-along and s'mores - Enjoy a campfiresing-along and s'mores on Saturday night. A great time to renew old friendships and make new ones!

 Choir/Music – Do you like to sing? Play a musical instrument? Enjoy rhythm? Come and be a part of the choir in the chapel, Prepare songs for worship services and be part of the Monday night talent show. Bring any and all of your musical instruments to add to our choir. Led by our music people, Dee Kaker and Carol Johnson.

 Chaplain's address - Reverend Loretta Mendoza is back as our priest for this year's mini-week. A member of St. Aidan's, Loretta is retired from her career after 15 ½ years as a hospital chaplain in Racine. Prior to that she worked for 18 years with an Oncology team at St. Joseph's hospital. She will lead the chaplain's address as well as presiding at our Sunday service and our Tuesday morning Healing Service.

 Cookie decorating – Wish you could decorate sugar cookies as cute as the ones you see at Panera or on Pinterest? You can! Try your hand at decorating springtime cookies with Linda Weber.

 Lighted Lanterns - Sandi Lenz

 Nature Walk- Want to get your exercise? Never really wandered around camp? Meet Barb McFadden for a guided walk/tour of camp.

Decorated Cards - Make the most elegant cards from the most simple materials, shaving cream and inks. Linda/DIY

DIY - a DO-IT-YOURSELF MORNING-wander the dining hall and try out any number of craft activities. Work more on the service project, prayer beads, forest fans, adult coloring, shaving cream cards. Team members may be available to give assistance if needed.

 Macrame– Everything old is new again! Loved macramé in the 70's? It's back! Joy McClain and Jenny Allcox will help you produce your very own macramé wall hanging or jar!

 Movie night Friday night -Again this year, movie night in the chapel. Bring a chair and your favorite beverage. . Popcorn will be served. Joy McClain

 Tied Fleece Blankets (Mini-week service project)- While mental health has always been an issue, it has become an even bigger struggle for our teens over the course of COVID. Our service project this year will be donated to Rogers Behavioral Health in Oconomowoc, for patients 10-17 years of age. For an added plus, bring adult coloring books, colored pencils, lip gloss or gel pens. The blankets are easy to tie. No experience necessary!

 Prayer chapel- prayer slips are in the boxes on your dining tables. Deposit them in the vase under the raccoon in the back of the dining hall. Prayers will be put onto the altar for Sunday's Healing service.

 Puzzles-As always, there will be puzzles available to work on throughout mini week in Friendship lodge. Some puzzles provided- or bring one along (you know you have one from quarantine laying around 😊).

Weekend overview Women's miniweek 2021

 S'mores and songs around the campfire – Join the group around the campfire for s'mores and songs on Saturday night.

 Talent Show- Monday night - A long standing tradition, it's amazing the talent this group has. Readings, songs, stories, instruments, there's no end to the talent!

 Ukulele lessons –Alice is back! Alice Kissling comes to us from the Madison area. She'll have the ukuleles and the music, you bring the enthusiasm. No experience necessary for this fun strumming experience. If you have a Uke, bring it. We'll work on a piece to present at the talent show and Sunday Service! Classes are for all skill levels- no experience needed!

 Women's Roundtable library-The diocesan ECW sponsors the women's roundtable library – a selection of books from this library will be on the hearth in front of the fireplace in the fireplace room off the dining hall. Many of the selections have many stand alone chapters -good for weekend reading. Others are great for starting and taking home-no records are kept. Address to return them is in the front of the book. The library has multiple copies of many books of interest for group study- just ask Connie Ott.

 Weaving a Cairngorm– discover the pleasure of weaving! We will weave a Cairngorm brooch using wool and a circular loom. The original Cairngorm brooches were made with a stone from the Cairngorm mountains in Scotland. The brooches are worn to decorate a coat, shawl, or scarf. Ann Marsh Meigs

 Worship Healing Service– Sunday morning service, “Healing of Memories”

 Zumba -Kathy Williams comes to us from Wild Rose. She will again lead our Zumba class, a blend of Latin and international music/dance themes to create an easy and fun workout.
